Daily Herald Next Week.

We will have a daily each day of the fair next week, and will not have any weekly issue next Wednesday. Our daily issue will be at least 1,000 copies each day, and it will be a fine time for advertising. Subscription five cents per copy or twenty cents during the week. We will insert displayed advertisement now appearing in the weekly, at one-fourth the regular rates. Displayed new advertisements for the daily, at one-half the rates of weekly. Locals, at five cents per line, each insertion.

When parties organize and adopt their platforms, we like to see them come square out, give identically what they mean, no indecisive policy, no subtlety that may be transformed to suit the chances of change brought about by monied monopolies in financial affairs, or the political demagogues of the John Sherman school jugglers, one color to-day and another to-morrow. Display your colors uniform alike and stand front-face in rank. If for gold and silver say so, if for greenbacks say so, if for bank monopolies such as National Banks, let us hear you say it. If, however, the Republicans are to give an uncertain sound and in one locality declare for gold and silver, in another for banks, then the truth is patent, the party is not honest, or does not understand itself. In the Louisville Republican Convention, they nominated Col. Scott, and declared for National Bank paper, and against greenbacks. Here in this district they declare for metal money alone. In view of this state of the Republican party, we shun to say to the people, what do you think of the consistency presented, and what are you to expect from a house divided against itself. There is but one solution of this double-headed and ten-horned monster, and that is, that he is about to destroy himself, seeing his death inevitable, for in no possible contingency can any party survive, that plots itself against the true interests of the people and in the embrace of monopolies. We can not regret the suicide that is being committed, the national good demands it, the death will be a relief, for the old chronic invalid can not be cured, far better to die than annoy the nation with a burden too long borne.

While the people of the South are suffering the greatest possible affliction, their towns and cities becoming desolate, mourners going about the streets and the dead lying unburied in forsaken houses, homes abandoned and families scattered never to meet again, they who survive will feel their sorrow mitigated and their stricken hearts soothed by the fact that the whole nation was deeply moved at their misfortune; that from the abundance of the rich, from the mite of the widow and the pence of the children, contributions had been anxiously and cheerfully sent to their relief. And how much gratitude will they always feel in reflecting upon the noble self-sacrificing spirit of those who came to help them in their sufferings and distress. Time will be too short to repay in gratitude and time too short to develop the immortal virtues of the God-like souls that sacrifice themselves for the good of the stricken people of the South.

The description given of the sufferings of the people in some of the cities of the South, almost seem impossible of credence, and yet they are true. Such terrible suffering never has overtaken any people upon this continent. In reading some of the accounts from distinguished gentlemen, we could not but revert to the historic account of the besieging of Jerusalem by the Romans. It is truly appalling to think how suddenly all that was hopeful and bright in that sunny land of promise has darkened and passed away. We utter the prayer of the whole people, God have mercy on the afflicted South!

The Democrats of Ohio county are holding up Prof. W. B. Hayward for Superintendent of Public Institutions. He is a very talented man and has the scholarship and experience to fit him for the position. —[Breckinridge News.]

We were honored with a visit Monday from our neighbor C. C. Shannon, of the Rockport Register. He is a very pleasant, agreeable gentleman, and impresses us as being a good news paper man. He was accompanied by his son.

The Republicans of the Second District.—Their Convention, Platform and Nominations.

[Louisville Commercial.]

The Republicans of the Second Congressional district met in convention at Frankfort, Kentucky, on the 17th instant, and Mr. Arthur Palmer, of the Kentucky Republican, Madisonville, as temporary Secretary.

A call of the countess-delegates delegates from the following counties: Washington, Madison, and Henderson; seven counties: as there are ten in the district, there were three unrepresented.

A committee on permanent organization consisting of J. W. Moore, of Daviess; W. L. Gauthier, of Christian; Dr. Thomas W. Gardner, of Hopkins county, report in favor of making J. W. Allison, of Henderson, permanent chairman, and Dr. W. H. Ashby, of the independent candidate, Secretary.

This was amended by substituting the name of Arthur Palmer, of Hopkins county, as Secretary, and adopted.

Mr. Allison, on taking the chair, said that it was an honored position, and for which he was entirely unprepared, and asked that the "business" of the convention be promptly forwarded to the end that he might be unburdened.

Mr. C. H. Smith, of the Louisville Commercial, was selected by the convention to be the "business" secretary. In accepting the position, Mr. S. said that he was not here seeking honors for himself, and would accept the position as complimentary to the journal he represented, Ac.

Messrs. Feighan, of Daviess, Gardner, of Hopkins, and H. Timley, of McLean, were present, and reported that the respective counties represented in this convention are entitled to the following votes, v. z. One for each county and fraction thereof, excepting twenty-five of the vote cast for President Hayes in 1872—Ohio county 28; Daviess 19; Henderson 20; Hopkins 16; Christian 50; Webster 12; Madison 10; and Lawrence 1.

A committee on Resolutions was appointed by the Chair and composed of Messrs. Moore, of Daviess; Hubbard, of Ohio; Neely, of Webster, and Gauthier, of Christian, who reported the following resolutions:

The Republicans of the Second Congressional district of Kentucky, concurring in the principles of the Republican party as set forth in the platform adopted in the National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876.

Happy Greetings.

There is a merchant of great renown, Who lives about five miles from town. You ought to go and see his store, How it is packed from roof to floor. With all kinds of goods, from hardware, The best and cheapest anywhere. And when you hear him name the price, You will wonder at the sacrifice— How he can sell them and pay his way. For he almost gives his goods away. He sells the best he buys no trash, And pays for them the ready Cash. That is the secret how he can sell, And still make a profit. He is a good and fine, Just a plain brother son of the Poor. Mine, D'st he have no home so kind, That is the way of L. P. Barnard; The goods he has are there no sham. His store is right at Beaver Dam. And then he has such a nice young clerk, He is active and smart. He waits upon you when you buy, And sell whatever takes your eye. He is a good man, and makes a good profit, And when you buy from him, you are safe. Mine, D'st he have no home so kind, That is the way of L. P. Barnard; The goods he has are there no sham. Fresh Meats.

I will keep fresh meats for sale every day during Fair and Court weeks.

Don't Buy a Wagon.

Until you have read the advertisement of the "Cortland" platform and Spring Wagon, and the Jackson Farm Wagon, in the paper, and write to Elwell, Field & Co., Louisville, for a catalogue.

SOLD TOO SOON.

A few years ago our friend H. M. Mifflin sold the baby crib, and on Sunday his wife presented him with a fine daughter, weight, fourteen pounds. He no longer has the crib and will have to purchase another.

EXCURSION Postponed.

EXCURSION Postponed.

The excursion from Beaver Dam to Paducah, that was advertised to take place last Sunday, was postponed until Sunday week, 6th of October. This was done on account of yellow fever scare—fears being entertained that the disease might reach Paducah. Tickets and complimentary passes for the trip will be good then. Let's all go and have a good time.

New Millinery and Manton-Maker EXHIBITION.

Mrs. Maggie Jarboe and Miss Juliet Hardwick have embarked in the millinery and millinery business. They have located in the room over Williams' grocery, in Hartford. They are prepared to ent, fit and make dresses in the latest styles. Patterns for sale. A full line of millinery goods just received.

The Ladies Department of the Louisville Exposition is superior to any former display of the kind; in the beauty and attractiveness of the articles shown and in the general arrangement of the department. Our lady readers will see much of interest, and gain many useful hints by examining this corner of the great Exposition carefully and thoroughly.

Ophelia's writes to ask if sacred history mentions card playing. "Certainly, my dear girl, Moses 'led' for the children of Israel, and when the latter got to Jordan they 'passed' it." Solomon 'ordered up' the temple, Baalam held a 'jack,' and the seven priests before Jericho did the same by 'playing' seven trumpets."

Read the advertisement of W. R. McDowell, druggist, McLeaven, Ky. He has recently opened a drug store at that place, and would be pleased to supply the wants of those wishing anything in the drug line. Mr. McDowell is a young man, just entering into business, and so I wish the patronage of the citizens of that section of the country. Give him a call.

THE HERALD.

MORGANTOWN, KY., Sept. 13, 1878.

Editor Herald:
At 5 o'clock A. M., September, 2d, the musical chimes of the Seminary bell, gave notice that Prof. W. J. Finley, D. D., was on duty again, ready to assist those who might wish to enter the Normal School. Prof. Finley is an able instructor, and an eloquent divine, am sorry that he has not met with that degree of success, that his long experience as a teacher, and his commanding talent should overshadow.

Little Miss Zerrilla Austin, aged about 5 years, a grand daughter of old Dr. John Austin, once of Morgantown, died of consumption of the brain, at 8 P. M., Sept. 1, 1878.

There is a woman in our town, who has a baby about 6 months old, which (July) is so fat that she has to roll him in dry sand every night to keep him in bed.

Mr. Geo. W. Doolin, a native and an old citizen of this county, died Sept. 6th. The last few months of his life were passed under a dark cloud of mental aberration, but he lived very consistent Christian life; had the confidence and respect of all acquainted with him; but he has quit the walks of men, and entered the shoreless domain of the invisible.

T. M. Jones, who immigrated from Ohio county to Texas about six years ago, has returned to Butler (his native) country. His numerous relatives and friends are pleased to see him again in places familiar to him in the days of other years; but his estimable wife sleeps beneath the Southern sod; she has gone out at the door beyond which the eye of faith alone can penetrate.

Mr. James Rives, our newly elected justice, "took his seat" last Monday, in company with three or four other fast young men of this place; we improved the first good opportunity to interview Mr. R., as to the kind of fare we might have, in case of misfortune or misadventure should impose upon us the disagreeable necessity of becoming his involuntary guest. Mr. Rives seems to bear a resuscitation very well, and has a very delicate sense of propriety, and I have no doubt will take good care that his guests are securely protected from any ill fate, or prevent curiosity of vulgar outside spectators.

Mr. James Koons one of our citizens, has a fine June apple tree, that has borne its third crop this year; something remarkable for this climate.

To the wife of Mr. Thomas J. Burch, our efficient County Clerk, was born Sunday last, a fine boy. Tom says that the Burch (or children) is increasing, but that each addition is a new flower of the brightest line.

Hon. Jerome T. Moore, Police Judge of Morgantown, is recovering from an attack of fever—the first sickness he has had for 15 years.

Prospects for a wedding glow brightly every day.

WORLDLY WAIFS.

A Methodist clergyman has been arrested in Connecticut for murdering a girl.

Gen. B. F. Bristow has decided to change his residence from Louisville to New York.

Ontario produced 44,000,000 pounds of cheese and 13,745,000 pounds of butter last year.

In one year the Muffett register in the Richmond, Va., saloons has paid a revenue of $46,750.

It is said the King of Siam has three thousand wives under one roof. This is one reason for his keeping a standing army.

"You had better ask for marmers than money," said a dandy to a beggar, "I asked for what I thought you had the most of."

Two breweries in England, it is stated, consume as much water daily as would supply a town of 45,000 inhabitants.

Next to English sparrows there is nothing that increases faster than potato bugs, unless it is the interest on an unpaid note.

The wheat crop of this year is the greatest ever grown in the United States. It is 90,000,000 bushels greater than last year's crop.

Wild geese have passed over Dallas, Texas, five weeks in advance of their usual appearance. This is said to occur at early winter.

The discovery of rich placer deposits in the gold-bearing streams of Arizona is turning a lively tide of immigration to that promising Territory.

A pint of peanuts donated at Parker City, Penn., for the yellow fever sufferers realized $232, the price paid ranging from $1 to $15 per unit.

Wm. C. Rogers and James Jones, stationers, of New York city, have been arrested for swindling that city out of $1,000,000 under the Tweed regime.

The tramps are leaving the South by thousands. They have been infesting the Mississippi Valley for months, and were as thick as rats upon a Chicago pier, but for some reason they are now making tracks for a land of higher temperature.

It is reported that Sitting Bull has reappeared on his side of the line with all his forces, "magnificently armed and equipped." The Canada papers discredit the rumor, and say that the old chief is still resting quietly in the green pastures of the promised land.

"Beautiful, beautiful silken hair," Charley mused fondly, toying lovingly with one of her nub-brown tresses, "soft as the plumage of an angel's wing; light as the thistle down that dances on the shimmer of sunset, the glitter of yellow gold, the rich red-brown of autumnal forests, idly encircling beauty in it." And just then it came off in his hand, and he forgot what to say next. There was a moment of profound silence, and then Aurelia took it from him and went out of the room with it. When she came back he was gone. They met now but they met as strangers, and the eyes that were wont to beam upon each other with the winking over-light now glared as though life was an actual wash day.

Educated Topic.

It is a curious fact that many, if not most people, when suddenly interrogated, are not able to tell the exact colors or patterns of carpet and wall paper, or the style of furniture, in a room in which they have lived for years. This may be remotely connected with the old metaphysical doctrine that we have the same sensations in common in living as in the sepulchre. But in whatever way we account for the fact, it ought not to be so, for there should be educated to enjoy whatever is beautiful in our surroundings, and to desire the removal of what is offensive to correct taste. The perfection of Greek works of art is often accounted for by the fact that Greek artists constantly had such beauty to look before their eyes. We ought to take a lesson from this, and endeavor to educate the aesthetic sense of the coming generation by paying more attention to merit and purity of style in the furniture of our rooms. There is, perhaps, more luxury and comfort to be found in American homes than anywhere in Europe. Too frequently, however, display and ostentation are considered in the parlor, and the rich, while the furniture of a humble home is often the expression of "the power of living thought animating the workman's sensitive fingers," which Mr. Rankin so laudably in our modern machine-made furniture. [Literary World.]
